Worker Finds $2,000 Hidden in Old Jug

MARSHALL, Mich., March 27.—(AP)—William Caffrey, laborer, called a taxi to take him with his jug of $20 gold pieces.

Caffrey was hired to do some cleaning on a farm near here, owned by Charles Budlong. He found the jug containing $2,000 in gold in an old building he was tearing down. The coins are dated 1850 to 1890. Prior to 1892 the farm was owned by a man named Lee, who was reputed to be wealthy, but whose money was not found when he died.

The money belongs to Caffrey unless heirs of Lee show up and prove their right to the property.

Husband of Slain Woman Admits 'Affair' With Indian

Henri Marchand shown with his daughter, Henriette, at the Buffalo jail where he was detained as a material witness following the slaying of his wife.

Henri Marchand Says Relations With Young Woman Were 'Professional Necessity'

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 27.—(AP) Henri Marchand took the witness stand today to tell of an intimacy without love with Lila Jimerson, Seneca Indian on trial for plotting the murder of his wife.

His relations, he testified, were established and maintained in the name of "professional necessity"; they constituted his methods of getting a reluctant model to pose for his Indian museum groups. The method, Marchand added had been used with other Indians in other places, notably on a Canadian reservation.

Marchand said he did not know that Lila, disappointed when his attentions ceased, had plotted, as charged by the state, to have old Nancy Bowen, the Cayuga Indian, kill Clothilde Marchand. He did not know, he testified, that Lila had used letters to convince the Indian that the little French woman was a "white witch" who had placed a curse on Chief Charles Sassatras, her husband, and killed him, and would do the same for her. He did not know when he was motor-ing with Lila Jimerson, on the afternoon of March 6, he declared, that old Nancy was at the moment beating down with a hammer and smothering with chloroform the woman he had married 33 years ago.

Troth Not Suggested.

Never at any time in the 10 or 12 years he had known her or the two years of intimacy, Marchand said, had there been any word of marriage between them.

District Attorney Guy B. Moore, who placed the artist on the stand, read a letter written by Marchand to Lila and, quoting from it, asked: "Why did you tell her she was of higher type than other Indians?"

Marchand's answer did not satisfy the prosecutor and he said: "I do not know what you call it in French but we people here say 'just kidding her along.' Wasn't that it?"

"Yes," agreed the witness.

The Indian woman had threatened to kill herself, according to Marchand, and then had given her "word of honor" at the artist's insistence not to commit suicide.

"Some Attachment," No.

The witness insisted it was not love nor even the "some attachment" suggested by the district attorney that motivated the letters he had written Lila. It was compassion, the gray-haired Frenchman declared, compassion for a woman who was ill, a victim of tuberculosis.

"What had you done last fall, to make it seem you were cold toward her, as this letter says?" the district attorney asked.

"I called her down because she was a liar," Marchand explained. "She sent me letters in a different handwriting with another name."

Marchand, answering questions of the prosecutor, verified a sentence in a letter and for the second time during the day Lila interrupted with a clear-cut and shrill: "You are a liar."

Gave Her Money.

The artist testified he had given Lila money on several occasions with which she paid doctor bills for treatment of tuberculosis.

Telling of boyhood in France and his early successes in art there and in this country, the artist said he was born in a suburb of Paris 52 years ago, was well educated in the schools of France and upon completion of his tuition married Clothilde when he was 19 years old.

Marchand went to Buffalo in 1925 to take up work with the Buffalo Museum of Natural Science. Here he was designated chief curator to make casts and prepare groups of exhibits.

Family Listens.

Throughout his recital of his private life, his family sat in the courtroom, the older girls with heads bowed. The oldest son stared fixedly before him and the boy, Henri, Jr., sketched on a pad of paper the pictures of those involved in the trial; among the pencil sketches produced by the 12-year-old boy was a striking likeness of old Nancy Bowen, made as she huddled in the witness stand as she told of the killing of his mother.

Senate Agrees On Legislative Program

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP)—Senate leaders have agreed on a restricted legislative program for the rest of the session looking toward adjournment by June 1.

The schedule stated for enactment is confined—aside from the tariff measure and appropriation bills—to the pending proposals to place Muscle Shoals under government operation; to transfer prohibition enforcement to the justice department, and to reorganize the federal power commission.

Senator McNary, of Oregon, assistant republican leader, expressed confidence today that this legislation would go through, and that "by general agreement" other matters before congress would be shifted to the next session.

After conferences with leaders of various groups, McNary said the legislation listed would be considered "a good day's work." Other issues raised in the special session, he said, would be deferred in order that many members may go home to campaign in this election year.

MOTHER 'IN TROUBLE' KILLS SELF AND SONS

Bodies of Three Small Children Found in Lake.

HARRIMAN, Tenn., March 27.—(AP)—Because she was "in trouble," a 28-year-old mother hanged herself in her log cabin home and drowned or smothered to death her three young sons sometime last night at D'Armond, a hamlet near here, John Hendrix, chief of police of Harriman, said today.

Hendrix said the mother, Mrs. Dorothy Welsh, left a note addressed to an aunt, Lizzie Hammond, saying she was "in trouble" and asking her aunt to forgive her for her act. Mrs. Welsh's husband, Sherman Welsh, left this section recently to find work in railroad yards in Cincinnati. Hendrix said his investigation indicated that Mr. and Mrs. Welsh were on good terms and that the husband recently had sent money for the support of his wife and their three children, Freddie, 8, Edgar, 7 and Sherman, 5.

Relatives today found the body of Mrs. Welsh hanging from a rafter in the kitchen of her little house at D'Armond, and recovered the bodies of the three children in a pond near the home. Hendrix said the bodies of the children bore no marks of violence and that they either were smothered to death before they were placed in the pond, or that they drowned. The body of each child was wrapped in blankets, tied at each end.

The note did not say what the "trouble" had been, Hendrix said, but instructed that all of Mrs. Welsh's belongings be given to her "aunt Lizzie."

DETROIT, March 27.—(AP)—During the absence of their parents three small children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hamden lost their lives today in a

Income Tax Payments Reach $542,432,341

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Receipts from the first quarter's payment of the tax on 1929 incomes were shown today to have reached $542,432,341 on last Tuesday.

This was taken at the treasury as an indication that the estimates of the department of a total of more than $500,000,000 for the month would be borne out.

The collections on March 27 were $9,783,624, which left the total $36,000,000 less than collected in the same number of days in last March and the indicated aggregate for the month approximately $50,000,000 less than the $801,000,000 collected in March of last year.

Dry Agents Raid Dinty Moore's Place

NEW YORK, March 27.—(AP)—At the height of the pre-theater rush, a dozen federal agents tonight raided Dinty Moore's restaurant, one of the best-known dining places in the Broadway white lights district.

The agents entered one by one and sat down at tables. At a signal they all rose and made a concerted rush downstairs to a storeroom where they said they found 35 cases of assorted liquors.

William Moore, manager and son of the proprietor, was arrested, as were a cashier, a bartender and two waiters. The prohibition agents ordered the restaurant and called for drinks when the alleged liquor was served the raid began.

The agents said the liquor, was served in small medicine bottles, one drink to a bottle.

Do Women Suffer More Than Men?

Physicians tell us that the nervous system of woman is more highly organized, more delicately poised, and therefore, more sensitive to disturbances and susceptible to pain than that of men.

Women especially appreciate and profit by the use of Capudine, because it quickly relieves high nerve tension and pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening them. For nervous headache, periodic pains, pains in the back and sides, neuralgia and rheumatic pains, nothing is so quickly effective and satisfactory as Capudine. Being liquid it acts much quicker than tablets and powders. Contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach, therefore, is the ideal remedy. Every home should be supplied with Capudine. It brings grateful relief from nerve strain and pain, and affords peaceful relaxation in just a few minutes. At drug stores in 30c and 60c sizes.—(adv.)

UNIFORM PLANS MADE FOR MILL HOUR CUT

Commerce Secretary Receives Report From 24 Textile Executives.

NEW YORK, March 27.—(Special.)—The following report has just been submitted to Secretary Lamont of the United States department of commerce in Washington, by Walker D. Hines, chairman of the board, and George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute:

"We believe you will be interested to learn that to date a gratifying response has been made to the recommendations looking to greater uniformity in running time and greater regularity of employment recently made to the cotton textile industry by a group of 24 mill executives following the conference with you and other department of commerce officials in Washington on January 16, 1930. "We are advised that mill executives in New England and southern states, representing 422,901 looms and 18,493,336 spindles, have subscribed to the soundness of these recommendations. This represents approximately 59 per cent of the looms and 44 per cent of the spindles in place in the United States.

"This movement, which we regard as highly constructive, is going forward in all branches of the industry and we are hopeful that in the near future the maximum running time recommended, that is 55 hours for the day shift and 50 hours for the night shift, and with no overtime beyond those hours, will be observed by the cotton mills generally in the United States.

There is a general feeling throughout the cotton textile industry that this plan will tend to diminish the present disturbing practice of periods of overproduction and overemployment followed by periods of reduced production and reduced employment. For some years past the mills have actually been running on a lower to total basis of production and employment than indicated by these schedules but under conditions which led to much unnecessary irregularity. Leading mill executives sponsoring the recommendations have expressed the hope that this plan will eliminate many of these irregularities which in the past have been matters of concern to management and employees alike.

STRICKLAND FORESEES GREATER PROSPERITY

America is facing the greatest commercial era the world has ever known, declared Robert Strickland, Jr., vice president of the First National bank, in an address before the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce here Thursday, in which he urged "looking forward a few years" rather than "backward a few months."

"We woke up with a bump not so many months ago when the bottom dropped out of the stock market," he declared, "and since then we have talked hard times so much everybody actually believes it. Comparing the wealth and income of the people of the United States today with what they were 15 years ago we simply cannot doubt progress," he continued.

"Don't go short on America, the south, Georgia or Atlanta," he advised. "In discussing modern banking, the speaker said that banks were following the modern trend toward mergers with a view to giving better, safer and more comprehensive service at lower price."

"It has been proved beyond all doubt that the establishment of branch banks has tended to give better financial support to industry and agriculture with greater safety for all," he declared, "and anyone who doubts this need only look at the branch banks in California."

He stated that due to the fault of the banks themselves the public had never been educated to banking problems, and that the average man knows everything about his business except the banking or financial side.

He described a modern banker as a "merchandise of credit" and a bank as a "financial department store which renders every possible financial assistance to its customers."

James Conoly presided at the luncheon and the entertainment program was featured by specialty dances by Miss Beverly Wilds, accompanied at the piano by Miss Eulane Holmes.

Georgia's peach crop of 1930 will be practically double that of 1929 according to the first estimate of the season's prospect made Thursday by Arthur D. Jones, director of the bureau of markets of the state department of agriculture.

From reports received at his office Mr. Jones estimated that from 8,000 to 10,000 cars of peaches would be produced this year. Last year the crop was of 5,401 cars. A valuation of $3,312,000 placed on last year's crop would indicate a value in excess of $6,000,000 for that of this year.

Advises received at the bureau indicated that little or no injury has been suffered by the crop because of the present cold weather. At the experiment station at Thomaston, it was said, there has been little or no damage.

"Our reports this morning covering the peach belt indicate no material damage thus far to the 1930 peach crop," Director Jones reported.

COMPLICATIONS YIELD TO POWERS OF NEW SARGON

"Life Seemed Just One Wretched Day After Another," Says Georgia Woman.

Time and time again Sargon proves its remarkable powers. This new and modern compound has won a veritable army of friends who, out of pure gratitude, are glad to tell how it brought them lasting relief after years of suffering and misery. Thousands testify that, after having been restored to splendid health by Sargon, they continue the treatment just for its wonderful strengthening value. It is wise to profit by the experience of others so read the following statement made by Mrs. James Pyron, of Tilton, Ga., who said recently while in Atlanta:

"I'd been so badly rundown the past few years, life seemed like one wretched day after another. My vitality and resistance were so low I had colds all winter, and I couldn't seem to build myself up because the foods that tempted my appetite at all would put me in misery with indigestion. Pork and beef and most vegetables and starches would bring on terrible distress, and there wasn't much left that I could eat. My nerves almost got the best of me, and I'd lie awake night after night and get up feeling as tired as if I'd never been to bed. Constipation was another thing I had to contend with and I had to take a laxative every night. I'd have blinding sick headaches and dizzy spells and there was almost a constant pain in my back, from my inactive liver. I'd been reading in the papers where so many Atlanta people had gotten wonderful results from Sargon. I decided to come in and get a treatment.

"I don't know what there is in Sargon that picks a person up so, but it's the most marvelous medicine I've ever taken. It strengthened my whole system and I have so much energy and vitality I'm like a different person. I have a wonderful appetite and eat anything I like, without a minute's trouble from my stomach. My nerves are so much better I sleep just fine and get up feeling alert and able to take a new interest in things around me.

"Sargon Pills made my liver active again and overcame my constipation, and not once did the nausea or grippe me. I no longer have sick headaches or dizzy spells, and the pain in my back has left me. I am certainly grateful to this wonderful Sargon treatment for all it has done for me."

The Sargon Man is at Jacobs' Main Store, 48 North Broad St., Grant Bldg., where he is meeting the public daily and explaining the merits of this remarkable new medicine. Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

approved Thursday afternoon by Councilman Tom M. Smith, chairman of the aviation committee of city council.

However, in anticipation of the aviation chairman's sanction of his plans, which will enable him to begin operations again at the airport within about 10 days, workmen were busy at the S. A. T. hangar Thursday morning, having the preliminary work necessary before the actual moving of the hangar can be undertaken. Contractors have promised that the hangar's new owners will be housed and operated from it by Friday or Saturday of next week, Blevins said Thursday night.

Near Old Site.

Blevins' new location is approximately the same as his former site, except that it has been shifted north about 25 feet. Whereas his former hangar opened to the south, facing the still incomplete northwest and southeast runways, the new building will face the east, immediately in front of the north and south runways.

The hangar, which is 75 feet wide and 113 feet long, is entirely fire-proof, being of steel construction throughout, with a corrugated metal covering. Blevins stated that he plans to leave the steel work and the outer covering intact, but to enlarge the shop space and repaint and re-roof the structure. The present office, now confined to a small wooden structure built on to the hangar itself, may be abandoned, Blevins said, and a small auxiliary building of steel acquired for office and reception room purposes. This change not only would greatly reduce the fire hazard but would provide space which the present office does not afford, he pointed out.

The structure was erected several years ago by Doug Davis, then a private operator on the field, and later taken over by Southern Air Transport, Inc., a branch of the Aviation Corporation, of which Lee Sanders is divisional manager at Candler field.

Plan New Hangar.

With the sale of his hangar to the Blevins Aircraft Corporation, Southern Air Transport is to go forward immediately with its building plans, which call for the erection of a brick and stucco and steel structure on the present site. It is expected that the construction work will require about two months, during which period the company will operate from the Blevins hangar, Sanders said Thursday night.

In his new building, Blevins will begin operations with Model "F" Waco, a three-place, Kinner-powered training job, just put out by the company; and a Lycoming-powered Stinson Junior, for demonstration purposes. In the sale of Stinson planes, a division of the Cord Corporation, Blevins will be associated with the Phinix Motor Company, Cord and Auburn distributors, in the capacity of sales manager of its airplane division. The Phinix Company's new building at West Peachtree street contains an exclusive airplane showroom and a second Stinson will be brought to Atlanta and placed on display there, it was stated.

The Stinson Junior, in charge of Captain John Kelly, Lycoming test pilot, is scheduled to leave the Stinson factory for Atlanta on Thursday, April 3. At about the same time Blevins and his chief pilot, E. W. Hightower, will leave by train for Troy, Ohio, and fly back in two Model "F" Wacos. One of these is to be Blevins' training ship and the other is to be delivered to Fred Jacobs, student of the Atlanta flier, who ordered the plane about a month ago, just after his first solo flight. In addition to Stinsons and Wacos, Blevins handles the products of the DeKalb Aircraft Corporation, now represented in Atlanta by Asa G. Candler's Lockheed Wasp Vega, whose 192 miles an hour top speed makes it the speediest ship in the south.

"While my original intention was to build a new hangar in its entirety," Blevins said Thursday night, "I was extremely glad to get back into operation after a three weeks' enforced lay-off, and when the opportunity to purchase the S. A. T. hangar presented itself I accepted it."

Along with the hangar purchase announcement, Blevins said Thursday night that the Beeler Blevins School of Aviation, heretofore located at 23 1-2 Peachtree street, today would be moved to a new and more commodious location at 57 Alabama street, S. W. The enrollment of 15 new students, to start classes April 1, made the move imperative, he said, adding that the school now has a total of 45 students.

Several members of the league charge that the proposal is a political scheme for the promotion of those in power in DeKalb county and is not for the interests of the taxpayers. Mr. Hutcheson said. He added that the voters of DeKalb county are invited to attend.

WORKERS FOR BLIND TO INSTALL CHAPTER

Fifth District Body To Be Formed at Meeting Monday Night.

Installation of the fifth district chapter of the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind will be conducted at 8 o'clock Monday night on the Ansley hotel roof, at a gathering of leaders of the movement. Presentation of a charter and election of officers for the new chapter will feature the session.

The state organization is for the purpose of promoting the legitimate interests of the blind people of Georgia. Paul Donehoo, well-known Atlanta attorney and president of the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind, announced, "We are seeking to arouse sufficient interest in sight conservation and in the industrial and economic handicap of blindness to secure legislation directed toward the solution of those problems," Mr. Donehoo said.

"Among the objectives of the organization are those of helping to create new opportunities of industrial employment, assisting those who lack proper means of support to find work best suited to their needs; endeavoring to maintain high standards of efficiency among blind workers in general; in order that the demand for their services may be increased and seeking to correct many mistaken ideas on the part of the general public as to how far persons without sight are or are not handicapped in assuming their rightful places in the social and industrial life of the community," Mr. Donehoo explained.

"We propose to encourage concerted action in every possible and practical movement having for its object the prevention of blindness or the lessening of the heavy disadvantage which loss of sight imposes," Mr. Donehoo said.

Son of Deputy Gets Six Months in Jail

Aubrey Sams was convicted of possessing and selling whisky by a jury in federal court here Thursday and sentenced to six months in jail.

He is the son of M. G. Sams, Fayette county deputy sheriff, who himself has just received a like sentence on the same charges.

The government introduced a hat in evidence as the trial came to a close Thursday. It was claimed that this was found along the route taken by an unknown party at the time of the raid and formed an important link in the chain of evidence when it was demonstrated that it fitted the head of the defendant.

J. R. Crocker, who testified that he had bought whisky from young Sams, was given a four months sentence on charges of possessing and transporting whisky. He pleaded guilty to the charge previous to the start of the Sams hearing.

'GREATER ATLANTA' CENSUS TOTAL SOUGHT

Russell Cites Act of 1929 Legislature Defining Limits of City.

Steps toward securing from the bureau of the census at Washington an agreement to list the total population of Atlanta as defined by the act of the 1929 legislature, were made Thursday by Horace Russell, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, who sent by air mail letters to Dr. William Stewart, director of the census; Edward W. Koch, chief census supervisor; Dr. Elizabeth Broach, local supervisor; Congressman Ranssack and Senators Harris and George.

An interview with Dr. Stewart published Thursday, indicated that he was in some doubt about including the new territory defined in the recent act in the report of the population of Atlanta.

In his letter to Dr. Stewart Mr.

Russell states that "We write to very urgently call your attention to the fact that there is no such municipality in the state of Georgia as 'city of Atlanta.' You will find in Georgia laws, 1929, at page 885, an act of the general assembly of Georgia, approved by the governor of Georgia August 17, 1929, incorporating 'Atlanta.' We enclose herewith copy of said act, duly certified by the secretary of the state of Georgia, for your information, and we most respectfully and urgently request that you give direction to the supervisor of the census in Atlanta to enumerate the population of the political subdivision of Georgia known as 'Atlanta.'"

Governor Hardman and Mayor

Ragsdale have been requested by Mr. Russell to lend their co-operation in the movement.

COUNCIL TO ASK END TO WARD RULE

politics practice to muddy the waters of an otherwise clear-cut issue until the next city election rolls around in order to give the ward bosses another chance to get their men in for a period of years—with the ultimate idea of obscuring the legal citywide election idea in a maze of time.

There will be no referendum on this question. The executive committee should plainly see that a referendum not only would bring public condemnation but also would finally terminate in the death of the primary itself. This is our chance to set things right at last, and I firmly believe those in charge of this procedure will see to it that Atlanta is given that which, after all, is only their constitutional right.

Urges General Election.
Mr. Breitenbacher was equally firm in his conviction that the sole cure for the ward-election evil lies in inauguration of the general election.

"In the light of recent developments," he asserted, "we Atlantans are faced with the necessity of changing the manner of election of our councilmen. We have learned that the ward system is wrong. It is needless to repeat to its dispraise.

"Those who are directly responsible for our election laws are confronted with two alternatives. They may retain the present system, thus maintaining councilmen by wards—a system which the great masses of our people believe from its very nature tends to breed corruption in office, or they may nominate them by citywide vote, which makes for honest government.

The proposition is: Ward vote and corruption; citywide vote and honest government. I am assailing and referring to no man. I am simply attacking a system. It is my sincere hope that the day will come when Atlanta will be known to the world, not only for its splendid churches and institutions of learning but as a city upon whose government the shadow of suspicion can not fall."

Urges Definite Action.
"It should be apparent to any right-thinking person," declared Councilman White, "that prompt, definite action should be taken by the executive committee to see that the right of every registered voter in Atlanta is protected—that he have a voice in the affairs of the city's government, and this can be brought about only by means of general or citywide election of members of council.

DR. SHARP, NOTED EDUCATOR, DIES

Dr. Sharp served four years on the commission appointed to report on standards maintained by colleges of the Methodist church, and for three years represented the church in the general conference.

He is survived by his widow, a brother, Frank J. Sharp, of Atlanta, and three sisters, Mrs. John D. B. of Waleska; Mrs. Minnie Mills, of McIntyre, and Mrs. James Thomas, of Dalton.

The body will be carried to Young Harris today for burial. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

GEORGE ATTACKS SECURITIES PACTS

Protests and forecasts of senate defeat for such a project began at President Hoover's doorstep where Senator George, democrat, Georgia, said such a pact would not be ratified and reached to the capital where Borah, Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota; and apparently Swanson, democrat, Virginia, aligned against the proposal.

Borah's thrust struck the pact suggestion with added impetus because he acted after conferring with Swanson, ranking democrat of the foreign relations committee. Swanson is contemplating making a statement on the subject tomorrow.

Challenging a consultative pact as a security pact in disguise, Borah predicted such an agreement would lead the United States into trouble or become a pious fraud. If Swanson takes as vigorous a position against a consultative agreement it would appear the possibility of obtaining senate approval for such an agreement has passed.

Shipstead Speaks.
Shipstead denounced foreign efforts to blame the United States for any failure of the London conference to produce results. He indicted the consultative pact as a path toward war.

Borah's sharp statement was made in the face of reports that Senators Reed and Robinson, who are members of the American delegation in London, were willing to consider participation in a consultative pact. Secretary of State Stimson, delegation chairman, formally has announced his delegation would consider such a proposal open-mindedly. Private information reaching the senate indicates neither Reed nor Robinson is wholly in favor of any political commitment in London, the United News was informed.

Joint Conference.
This treaty provides for a joint conference if a controversy involving the Pacific cannot be adjusted by diplomatic means. If the rights of any signatory are menaced by aggressive action, the treaty provides for exchange of communications to determine what measures shall be taken, jointly or singly, to meet the situation.

Borah, Shipstead, George and, by implication, Swanson's stand against the consultative pact idea swept back the flood of optimism released in London by Stimson's statement, pleading open-minded consideration for any suggestion toward a political agreement minus military implications. Acting Secretary of State Cotton and other qualified administration spokesmen decreed enthusiastic London estimates of the effect of Stimson's statement.

As the conference situation stands today with powerful senators hostile to a political agreement of any kind, it appears the prospect of a five-power conference is no better than on Monday when, admittedly, it was on the brink of defeat.

English Queen Wins Esteem of Beer Drawer

LONDON, March 27.—The queen of England may not know how to work a beer engine, "but she's a fine lady," in the very words of "Old Joe," and she won his heart utterly on her recent visit to the Anchor inn, model pub, where he tends bar.

"Why," exclaimed Joe, his eyes popping anew at the very recollection of an event which the cables carried over the world, "she even came behind the bar. And she asked: 'Joe, how do you keep your pipes clean?'"

"Mum," I says, "we use metal polish and plenty of elbow grease." And the queen smiled.

"Old Joe" would be the last person in the world to hold against Queen Mary her unfamiliarity with the operation of his prized beer engine. He understands that the technique is outside the grasp of the lay mind, even a royal mind.

"But she asked me how it was done," said "Old Joe," "and I told her. Not a bit I did. And she wanted to know how we kept our beer clear. Yes, she did. I bet she never heard so much about draft ale in her life."

Queen Mary was in the pub only 15 minutes, but her inspection was thorough.

"She even went down into the cellar to see how we stored our beer," exclaimed "Old Joe."

"Your work must be very pleasant," she says to me.

"Yes, mum," says I. "It's a bit better than the pubs were in my young days."

"Ah, there's a lady for you, sir. She's the queen of England and she knows about our pubs."

And "Old Joe's" eyes glistened in reminiscent admiration.

The Anchor inn is managed by an Anglican clergyman, Father Jellicoe, cousin of Earl Jellicoe, who commanded the British fleet at the Battle of Jutland. It is an experiment in model public houses, which explains the queen's interest and visit.

The inn stands in Stibbington street, a mean little thoroughfare in that region of north London known as Somers Town.

The queen was obviously aware of the squalid atmosphere in which most of Somers Town lives, so after leaving the Anchor she visited some of the older tenements and one or two of the new airy dwellings now gradually going up.

In one little apartment the queen was struck by the happy expression of a chubby-faced youngster.

When Ernie volunteered the information that he had 13 brothers and sisters the queen smilingly exclaimed, "My word!"

Then she drove home, and if anyone has any criticism to make against her, he had better not make it in Somers Town.

Watzl's Insurance Policy Said Void

VIENNA, March 27.—(AP)—An accident and suicide insurance policy taken out by Dr. Hermann Ernst Watzl, of Cleveland, for his bigamous bride, Mrs. Mary McGranahan, of that city, a few days before he shot her and then himself in a hotel here was said by the insurance company to be void.

The company said it would not pay the policy, which was made out to Mrs. Eva Hovarth, of Cleveland, mother of Mrs. McGranahan, inasmuch as the suicide clause was not operative for two years after issuance of the policy, and because, besides, Watzl McGranahan will be released today from the legal medical institute for final disposal. Watzl's father said his son's body would be cremated in Vienna Saturday in the presence of his family. Later Mrs. McGranahan will be cremated at the same crematorium.

'Laying By' Excuse Is Respite Winner

The "laying by" of crops has become a standard excuse in federal court here for violators of the prohibition law seeking deferred sentences. "Perhaps some of them take advantage of me," Judge Samuel H. Sibley said Thursday in granting his sixth respite of the week, "but I would rather it would be that way than to work a hardship on women and children of men who fool with liquor."

"There are really too many good folk fooling with liquor—both ways," the judge added.

The equalization fund is derived from a one-cent share of the fuel oil tax set aside for the purpose.

WRECK ON PEACHTREE TIES UP NOON TRAFFIC

Speeding Car Somersaults to Sidewalk at Auburn Corner.

Noon traffic on Peachtree street near Auburn avenue was tied up for nearly half an hour and hundreds of pedestrians in the street were given an unusual thrill Thursday when a big motor car, said to have traveled through a red light zone at 60 miles an hour, clipped off the fender of another car and somersaulted three times before finally piling up on the sidewalk near the Cameo theater.

The thrilled pedestrians were forced to flee for their lives as the hurtling car leaped 50 yards after the impact with the other car. Cleveland Brown, 21-year-old negro, was arrested by the police and charged with drunkenness after he had been treated at Grady hospital. He told the police that he was speeding to the hospital to obtain care for an injured eye which he said was bleeding and prevented him from seeing the other car at the intersection of Auburn and Peachtree.

Fire companies No. 1, 2, 4 and 8 answered an alarm and pulled the wrecked car from the sidewalk.

Turn this package over and read the back

THE WORDS on the back of the package still mean what they say. No "extras," which do not contribute to the quality of the smoke, are included in the price of Camels. Just the utmost smoke-enjoyment that modern science can put into a cigarette.

That statement was on the first package of Camels manufactured and has been on every one of the billions of Camel packages sold from that day to this. When it was first written, other cigarette manufacturers were giving away flags, pictures of actresses, pictures of ball players—almost anything that would make the smoker think he was getting something extra for his money. The makers of Camels believed the smoker wanted a cigarette sold strictly on its merits, with all of its cost put into quality—a cigarette made of such excellent tobaccos—so perfectly blended—so mellow—so fragrant—that it would win its own way.

The vast popularity of Camels is a tribute to that four-square policy.

CAMELS

Don't look for premiums or coupons, as the cost of the tobaccos blended in CAMEL Cigarettes prohibits the use of them.

J.E. Pottle, 63, Dies Suddenly At Home in Milledgeville

President of Georgia Bar Association Drops Dead While Dressing, To Attend Session of Court.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—Death today ended the long legal career of Joseph E. Pottle, president of the Georgia Bar Association, who dropped dead at his home here while dressing to attend a session of court.

Physicians said death was caused by heart failure. Mr. Pottle was 63 years old.

A member of a family of lawyers, Mr. Pottle was born in Warren, Ohio, November 19, 1866. He was the son of Edward H. Pottle, formerly judge of the northern circuit of Georgia.

He was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1886 and a year later was admitted to the bar. He practiced principally in Milledgeville from that time on, being a partner of Judge John T. Allen in the firm of Allen and Pottle here. On Judge Allen's retirement in 1925 the same name was continued with Marion Allen, son of the judge, entering the partnership. Previously Mr. Pottle had had law connections with David Howard and Judge Rufus Roberts here.

Served as Solicitor General. From 1903 to 1916 he served as solicitor general of the Georgia circuit, resigning to conduct an unsuccessful campaign against Hugh Dorsey for governor of Georgia. At the 1920 session of the state bar association in Atlanta he was elected president, and was making preparations for the bar meeting in Brunswick this year at the time of his death. By provision of the association's constitution, Rembert Marshall, of Atlanta, first vice president, succeeds to the presidency. Mr. Pottle was dean of the Milledgeville bar and president of the local association.

Baldwin Court Adjourns. Baldwin county court adjourned as soon as word of Mr. Pottle's death reached the presiding officers.

He was married twice, both wives preceding him in death. Mrs. Clara Pottle died here several years ago, and grief over her death was believed to have hastened his own. Mr. Pottle is survived by three children, Mrs.

Mary Pottle Luther, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Hattie Pottle Green, Atlanta; and Joseph E. Pottle, Jr., who lives in North Carolina. A brother, J. R. Pottle, formerly a judge of the state court of appeals, is a practicing attorney in Albany, Ga.

GEORGIAN TESTIFY AGAINST BROTHER

Crowds Jam Courtroom at Savannah in Liquor Conspiracy Trial.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—The unusual spectacle in United States district court today of two brothers testifying in a liquor conspiracy case against a third brother, with the suggestion of the court that they need not call his name if they did not wish, and with jury and spectators alike hanging upon every word the two witnesses spoke, kept the court's attention to a marked degree.

Robert Jenkins, 25, and Arthur Jenkins, 17, were the witnesses. Willard Jenkins, 30, was the brother on trial. Long before Robert Jenkins had finished his story, there was scarcely a person in the courtroom who did not find it difficult in controlling his emotion.

Robert Jenkins corroborated the story told on the stand yesterday by Ralph Cannon, of Augusta, regarding the operations in liquor of the Wilson Jenkins, Mrs. Mary Thompson and Edgar Sanchez, now on trial. Robert Jenkins testified that for his part in the liquor business he got his board, a little spending money, and a car to drive. Arthur Jenkins said he sometimes got five dollars a night for the same thing. Sometimes, he said, he got nothing. Both witnesses declared they were through with the liquor business. Their father had died nine years ago. There were seven brothers in the family.

Upon occasions when Robert Jenkins inadvertently mentioned the name of his brother in his testimony, Judge Barrett presiding, instructed the court stenographer to scratch the name from the record. Both witnesses testified that they were no longer friendly with their brother, Wilson Jenkins.

The case will be continued in the morning. The three defendants now on trial are charged with conspiracy in the shipment of liquor from the Bahamas to this country.

THOMASVILLE TO HOLD ROSE SHOW APRIL 18

THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 27.—The date for the annual Thomasville Rose Show has not been definitely set though Friday, April 18, is the date tentatively chosen. The first little spell of warm, bright weather will cause them to open in a matter of days. The rose show this year will again be held on the floors of the tobacco warehouse here, which has large floor space of any building in the town.

Dunahoo, a farmer living near Stat-ham in the lower section of Barrow county, was instantly killed in an automobile accident between his home and Stat-ham late Wednesday night. He had left his home to go to Stat-ham and was walking along the highway when two cars, going in opposite directions, passed near him. One, occupied by Sam and L. L. Dougherty County Has Now Adopted Australian Ballot

ALBANY, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—The Albany Herald quotes Thomas W. Hardwick, of Albany, former governor of Georgia, as saying that because he approved the Australian ballot system so heartily, he almost vetoed the act of the legislature in passing the law making that system operative.

"Paradoxical as that may sound, it is nevertheless true," says the Herald. Governor Hardwick had recommended passage of the secret, or Australian ballot act, but his idea was to make it operative in every county in Georgia.

When the legislature tackled on a "rider" making the law ineffective in a county until recommended by a majority of grand juries, the governor almost rejected the measure in the hope of obtaining passage of another which would not leave adoption of the law to the discretion of grand juries.

"That was because," the former governor recalled, "I foresaw the danger of this not leaving adoption of the law to the discretion of grand juries. That has happened in some counties, but I am delighted that Dougherty (Albany) county has adopted the system."

The superior court grand jury of Dougherty county, in its recommendation that the Australian ballot system be used. It was the second successive recommendation and now will govern future elections in this county.

FORGER ENDS TERM, AGAIN FACES TRIAL

MACON, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—The United States district attorney's office announced today that W. O. Eden, who has just completed service of a three-year term in the federal penitentiary for forgery, is being held in the Fulton county tower pending his removal by Macon authorities to Columbus, Ga., where he has agreed to plead guilty to the other charges in a charge of forgery, involving similar transactions.

For similar transactions in the northern district of Georgia Eden was sentenced in Atlanta to serve three years. He completed that sentence and got good time off, early this week and has indicated that he wants to plead guilty to the other charges in Columbus where court is now in session.

YOUNG GUEST OF SAVANNAH SHRINERS

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 27.—(AP) Leo V. Youngworth, Los Angeles, imperial potentate of the Mystic Shrine, reached Savannah today for an official visitation to Alee Temple.

At 6 o'clock this evening he led a parade of Alee band patrol and diran through the principal streets of the city. Tonight at the municipal auditorium a ceremonial was held at which the imperial potentate spoke on "Peace," this being the main portion of the Shrine's program this year.

TOBACCO EXPOSITION DRAWS WIDE INTEREST

Many Applications for Display Space Filed by Georgia, Florida Growers.

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 27.—(AP) Tobacco growers of this state and Florida have already filed enough applications for display space at the Tobacco Belt Exposition to be held at Valdosta this fall to insure a larger show than was held in 1929, officials of the exposition announced here Thursday.

"We are delighted at the amount of interest and inquiries that are being received from both states and we already have on file applications for exhibit space which insure a larger show than we had in 1929," said Manager H. K. Wilkinson.

"The exposition now has the assurance of securing educational exhibits along agricultural lines that have never been brought to this section before and which will be helpful to the entire tobacco belt.

"Work in earnest is now well under way and plans will be pushed to the limit until the final date of the opening in order to insure success of the undertaking and make the Tobacco Belt Exposition a helpful agency to the entire section it serves."

The exposition will be held November 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

Consider.... the
of fuel..

A sensible consideration of the problem of home heating demands that its cost be kept within reason. Certainly the heating expense should be kept at as low minimum as is consistent with heat uniformity, efficiency and comfort.

A ton of coal equals in heat units 194 gallons of fuel oil, and 28,000 cubic feet of natural gas. A ton of good coal costs $7.00; 194 gallons of fuel oil cost $15.52; 28,000 cubic feet of natural gas cost $20.80. Oil will cost you more than twice as much as coal. Natural Gas practically three times as much.

Investigate.. before changing from coal to any other form of home heating

Other fuels are serviceable to the household in many ways, but for use in home heating plants Coal is the dependable, safe and economical fuel.

Your coal dealer is in possession of FACTS which you should consider before making expensive changes in your heating equipment. Ask him, he will gladly respond.

BAKER OBSERVES NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

BRUNSWICK, Ga., March 27.—(P)—George Fisher Baker, the lone survivor of a powerful group of financiers who commanded money and industry at the beginning of the twentieth century, today observed his 90th birthday at the Jekyll Island retreat where he once conferred with J. Pierpont Morgan, James J. Hill, Theodore N. Vail and James Stillman.

Still active in the conduct of a wide variety of enterprises, the taciturn New York banker, whose silence has become a legend, planned a quiet day marked only by a family dinner. His son, George F. Baker, Jr., his daughters, Mrs. J. St. John, and her son, George St. John, all of New York, and E. E. Loomis, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, were with him for the occasion.

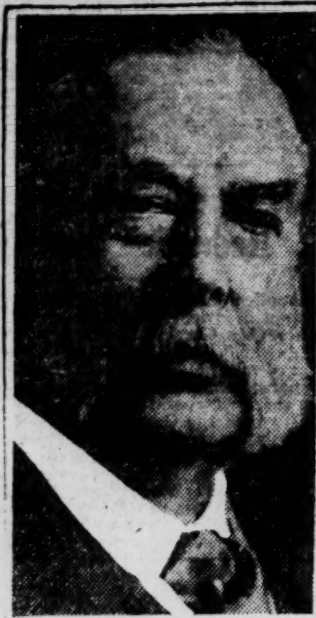

Mr. Baker reads little now, but has much read to him. He has abandoned golf, a recreation which he took up at 70. In its place he finds diversion in an automobile drive twice a day over the island, which is approximately eight miles long and two miles wide. He, too, is a keen dog fancier.

Mr. Baker came south in January and is in excellent health. The island, eight miles from here, is owned by the Jekyll Island Club, an exclusive organization of 100 millionaires. Game game frequents the island and virgin forests offer a scene of unusual pictorial beauty.

Unlike that other celebrated American, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., who also has reached his 90th milestone, Mr. Baker, as chairman of the board of the First National bank and a director in other large corporations, still is in the harness of work—of not of daily stints, yet of great responsibilities.

He attends regularly the board meetings of his bank and of other businesses in which he is interested. Within the last year he has been on inspection trips over two railroads. He is generally credited with owning

GEORGE F. BAKER.

20,000 shares of stock in his bank, holdings which alone are valued at more than one hundred million dollars. He became president of the First National in 1874 rising from an obscure position in a small Albany, N. Y., bank.

Commenting on his service as a director in the great corporations representative of business prosperity in this country, Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon once said Mr. Baker had built "a firm belief in character."

In recent years his benefactions to eastern colleges and hospitals have run into large sums, but they have been made quietly and without advance notice.

EMORY D. ALEXANDER SPEAKS AT MT. BERRY

MT. BERRY, Ga., March 27.—Emory D. Alexander, graduate of Berry Schools in 1912 and now extension agronomist of the Georgia State College of Agriculture at Athens, was the speaker at Berry Schools at a joint chapel of the boys and girls of the junior college.

Mr. Alexander told of early days at Berry, when most of the present campus and fields were covered with thickets of brush and trees. There were only a few log cabins on the grounds then where the students lived and studied. The Berry schools have a rich heritage in the state in the tradition of service being carried on by graduates, he said, telling the present students that in life as in school they will find the victory and honor go to the worker and not the one seeking "snaps" courses, which, he said, were unknown to Berry students anyway.

He told of the work of two county farm agents that he recently visited in southern Georgia, who are prominent in their communities. Both of the agents are former Berry boys. Berry girls doing home economics work have also achieved a high reputation, Mr. Alexander said.

Other visitors at the schools included four county farm agents. They were G. T. Wiley, of Carrollton, Carroll county, who brought with him C. A. Lyle, C. E. Smith and G. W. Burnett, all of Carrollton; County Agent J. H. Henderson, of Murray county, Chattahoochee; R. L. Welch, Dalton, Whitfield county, and E. Lewis, assistant county agent, of Whitfield county, also of Dalton. Mr. Henderson is a former student of Mr. Alexander at Georgia State College of Agriculture.

Convict, Resenting Prison Conditions, Escapes at Macon

MACON, Ga., March 27.—(P)—Robert H. (Candy) Herring, convict, and co-author of a letter to The Macon Telegraph, printed this morning, in which conditions in convict camps were scored, made good his escape from the prison late today.

Herring, a semi-trusty, was a wagon driver. He was hauling dirt in the vicinity of Schoone creek, where he abandoned his team and stole into the nearby swamp. The gang is engaged in building a bridge at that point.

He had served since December 11 on a 12 months' sentence for selling whisky.

In his letter to The Telegraph, written with W. O. Snide, another convict, "he defied Governor Hardman, or even President Hoover, to give this quarter an inspection and then have the nerve, or lack of nerve, to say that we are sitting on top of the world."

The letter was an answer to a report by Governor Hardman on Georgia's prison conditions. "No matter how wildly your imagination may cavort, you cannot possibly be far wrong when you say the system (the prison system of Georgia) is rotten," one paragraph in the letter read.

Previous to the fire the mill had been in operation more than 75 years.

BAINBRIDGE CHURCHES FORM CHARITIES BODY

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., March 27.—Through the leadership of the churches, Baptist, Presbyterian, Catholic, Hebrew, Christian and Methodist that have formed themselves into an associated charities organization, problems against city street begging and to aid people to help themselves are being nicely worked. The Rev. J. E. Ward, of First Presbyterian church, is president, and Mrs. J. H. Barfield, recording secretary.

Markers will be given those places that have joined the association and monthly reports will be mailed out to the membership on disbursements, and stipulation on a five-mile limit to the city boundary also went into effect at the March meeting. The council intends to pass an ordinance against street begging and churches will be asked not to do individual charity work but to permit every call and need be handled by the committee. Vance Custer, Jr., chairman of finance, aided by George Evans, Tom Mitchell, J. E. Willis, H. L. Hayes, C. W. King and E. Blumenstein and others, has made an enviable record of compiling funds incident to practical business methods of caring for the needy and unfortunate of the community. Sixteen families were helped last month and Mrs. Frank S. Jones was investigating officer for April, May and June and the next meeting will be held at First Methodist church on the second Thursday night in April.

Georgia Youth Dies From Kick by Mule

ATHENS, Ga., March 27.—(P)—Carlton Hoyt, 17, son of William Hoyt, Oconee county farmer, died in a hospital here last night as a result of a kick by a mule. The animal kicked young Hoyt in the head while he was plowing on his father's farm near Bishop, Ga., late yesterday. At first he appeared not to be hurt seriously, but a short time later he became unconscious. Physicians said Hoyt's skull was fractured.

'High Society Blues' Pleases at Preview

Janet Gaynor's craving for romantic love, story book love, and "happy ever after" endings at last has been satisfied.

It all comes about in the Fox Movietone presentation of "High Society Blues," which has been booked for the Fox theater in the near future and which was "previewed" Thursday morn.

"High Society Blues" is a curious mixture of every movie, every talkie, and every play which has gone before it. The Capulet-Montague motif dominates a story of feud-in, of course, in a whimsical manner, for this is by no means a drama in America's "big business."

Withal, "High Society Blues" is a most entertaining lot of fooling. There is, as anticipated, lovely little Janet Gaynor to allow for a resting of weary orbs. Hedda Hopper, who claims men as her hobby and who should find it easy to play that hobby, does her usual noble job as the sophisticated, this time the highest of the bars of society.

Charles Farrell has a part as an insipid young man, a role which suits, and Joyce Compton is a "kid sister" who lands a cast-off count, most engagingly played by Gregory Gage.

"High Society Blues" is light, broozy entertainment which should please Atlanta's movie public. The Fox powers have also booked a highly entertaining short, one of Grant Rice's "Spotlights," which depicts the chase and capture of a wild cat. Mr. Cat fights a good fight until one of these common "daws" sails into action. There is plenty of action, too. —HERB CLARK.

Erlanger Audiences Show Steady Gains

Attendance at the Erlanger theater has continued the steady increase in this, the third week of the Erlanger Theater Players, that it showed the second week. It is now assured that a new record will be hung up at the box office at the close of business on Saturday night.

In "The Bachelor Father," great comedy success from the Belasco theater, New York, the company has found a subtle and amazing play particularly well suited to their talents. It has, evidently, also appealed completely to the predilections of Atlanta theatergoers and the entire production, including the elaborate staging provided by Director Harry McKee, is evoking universal praise from the crowds leaving the Erlanger at the close of each performance.

Seats are now on sale for the melodrama "Brothers," which the players will present next week. This is a new type of play from those given by the players during the first three weeks of their stay in Atlanta and will serve to reveal their abilities in other than the comedy line.

'Rogue Song' Styled Best Color Picture

The finest example of technicolor work yet produced is said to be "The Rogue Song," talking and singing super-famous, starring Lawrence Tibbett, famous American baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, which comes to the Capitol theater all of next week.

The picture is entirely in technicolor and adds to the drama of its tremendous plot and the glory of Tibbett's voice, the most perfect reproduction of natural colors yet transferred to the audible screen.

This picture will inaugurate a special month of picked programs to be given at the Capitol as the Atlanta contribution to Loew's spring carnival.

SUTTON DENIES INTENT TO FORM P.-T. A. RIVAL

val, a period set aside by the national Loew organization to signalize the beginning of a year they confidently expect to set new business records.

Emphatic denial that the call he issued for a meeting to be held next Tuesday for the purpose of discussing parental education contemplated organization of a group in opposition to the Parent-Teachers' Council was contained in a statement made public Thursday by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools.

"I wish to state most emphatically," the school head asserted, "that such is not the case. I am a member of the Parent-Teachers' Association and one of the state's vice presidents. I have given and shall continue to give to this organization my most earnest, cordial and enthusiastic support."

Instead of founding an additional parent organization, the superintendent stated, the meeting to be held next Tuesday is to be a "part of our parent-teachers' work in Atlanta." "I am exceedingly sorry," the statement concluded, "that any effort should be made to construe the meeting of next Tuesday as one in opposition to the Parent-Teachers' Association. As the vice president of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the state, I am calling this meeting in the interest of our great organization and I sincerely trust that no rumors discourage our people in going forward with a progressive program of parental education and I further assure the public that as far as I am concerned that this work shall go forward in co-operation with and under the direction of the Parent-Teachers' Association and that no effort is being made to create another organization."

DEAD NEGRO IS FOUND IN PARKED AUTOMOBILE

Two DeKalb county policemen were started Wednesday night to discover a dead negro in a parked car, and with the body, two negroes who were fast asleep. The sleeping pair were aroused with difficulty and gave their names as S. C. Usher and Carl Johnson. The dead negro, they stated, was Thomas Hunter but they were unaware of how he died. They had fallen into a drunken stupor and was the last they had seen of him they asserted. Despite their story Chief J. L. Whitley and Officer E. P. Holcomb were holding the pair Thursday pending further investigation.

TALMADGE TO OPPOSE MELON FREIGHT RAISE

The state department of agriculture intends to file intervention proceedings with the interstate commerce commission if railroad companies insist upon raising the rates for carrying watermelons this year. Eugene Talmadge, head of the department, said Thursday.

"We are only waiting for the railroads to publish their schedules, he said, and then we will ask the interstate commerce commission to act. In most cases of this nature this commission then grants a stay which makes the proposed rate increases inoperative for the coming crop whatever it might be."

Mr. Talmadge made his statement after receiving a letter from J. D. Duke, a melon grower of Fort Valley, Ga. Mr. Duke said he had purchased fertilizer and made all preparations to plant 125 acres in watermelons, before he discovered that the railroads were attempting to increase rates.

"It is ridiculous, unwarranted and unfair to be dealt with in such a manner by any corporation," wrote Mr. Duke. "Such practices as this are going to bankrupt every farmer in the state and I hope that you will make it possible in some way to prevent these rates taking effect for the 1930 season."

Mr. Duke attached to his letter to the commissioner a letter from a railroad official quoting the following rates for melons from Fort Valley to various cities:

	Present rate per 100 lbs.	Proposed.
Detroit	58	67
Chicago	50	67
Cleveland	57	66
Evansville, Ind.	35	54
Indianapolis, Ind.	51	60
Cincinnati, Ohio	35	55

APPLE BLOSSOM FETE PLANNED AT CORNELIA

Plans for Georgia's first apple blossom festival to be held at Cornelia the middle of April were outlined here Thursday by W. B. Elliott, Jr., and Carl Burrell, president and vice president of the Cornelia Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the event.

Nearby towns in the northeastern section of the state are to co-operate in the effort to make the gathering a success from every standpoint, he stated. The exact time of the festival, they pointed out, will be dependent in some measure on the condition of the weather.

Tentative plans for the event include a parade, a pageant, a coronation ceremony and ball. While similar events have been held in the Georgia "apple belt" in previous years the Cornelia Junior Chamber is hoping that the celebration next month will surpass them all.

Manufacturers' Aid In Census Is Asked

An appeal to local manufacturers to make prompt and accurate replies to questionnaires recently distributed to facilitate the national decennial census of manufacturers being made by the government, was made Thursday by the industrial bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"If census figures are to be current and timely, the manufacturers must not delay their reports," Frank K. Shaw, secretary of the industrial bureau, stated. "Since the value of the whole census is contingent upon the time element, the local chamber is particularly anxious that prompt returns be made by local manufacturing establishments, which in the census survey comprise plants engaged in the conversion of raw or partly manufactured materials into finished or partly finished products, bakeries and printing and publishing offices," Mr. Shaw explained.

"The bureau of the census has informed the chamber that it is now prepared to issue a preliminary report for Atlanta within three weeks after acceptable returns have been received from all manufacturers. This report will carry statistics showing the number of manufacturing establishments, number of wage earners, wages paid, combined cost of materials, fuel and power, and the value of products."

'Dumb' Waiter Gets Change for $20

YONKERS, N. Y., March 27.—(UN)—Yonkers police have crossed trails with a dumb waiter who is not so dumb.

This particular person went into the basement of a Yonkers apartment house today and rang the buzzer in the apartment of Howard Postwick. Postwick stuck his head into the shaft and the fellow yelled:

"Landry!"

"No," said Postwick.

"Dollar eighty," said the voice.

"And say, will ya send down change for a twenty?"

Postwick sent down the change.

That was the last he heard until an hour or two later when the real laundryman showed up.

cash, 20 Atwater Kent radios and cash commissions amounting to more than $25,000 that will be given away at the end of The Atlanta Constitution's prize campaign.

With few active candidates and the campaign hardly started, what greater opportunity could be presented for the winning of automobiles, cash and radios?

Easy Opportunity.
The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign presents the easiest opportunity ever offered to win a big award. The $500 in gold which will be given for extra effort between now and April 19 will be awarded as follows:

Two hundred in gold will be given to the candidate turning in the highest amount in new subscription business during the period starting March 26 and ending April 19. One hundred dollars in gold will be given to the candidate turning in the second highest amount. Seventy-five dollars in gold will be given to the candidate turning in the third highest, fifty dollars in gold will be given to the candidate turning in the fourth highest, and twenty-five dollars in gold will be given to the next three candidates turning in the highest amounts in new subscription business.

New contract and new paid-in-advance subscriptions will count towards winning these awards. And the winning of them in no way conflicts with the winning of the regular awards to be given at the close of the campaign May 31.

These same subscriptions turned in for the special gold prizes will count in the 100,000 and 50,000 extra credit offers. For every $30 worth of new prepaid subscriptions turned in up to April 19, a bonus of 100,000 extra credits will be given. And for every $30 worth of new contract subscriptions turned in, a bonus of 50,000 extra credits will be given. These extra credits are in addition to the regular credits allowed on each individual subscription.

Way to Climb.
Just note how you can get thousands of credits. Your entry will give you 5,000 credits to start. Add to this the 10,000 credits extra given with your first subscription which also carries with it the regular number allowed in the credit schedule. Then the subscription, if new, applies on your first $30 bill in the extra credit offer besides the number each subscription that makes up the club counts for.

Don't pass this chance by. It may mean gold in your pocket within a few weeks and a fine new automobile for you later. Start right now and send in your name today. You will find the entry blank in the campaign announcement on another page in this issue.

HE SUFFERED FOR YEARS WITH PILES

Some Doctors Said Ulcers; Others Abscesses and Others Piles

A SIMPLE LITTLE REMEDY CURED IT

"After you have suffered as I did for three years and spend all I did in vain, you surely feel grateful when something comes along and heals you up and makes you well and happy, at my age, 70 years," writes C. F. C. Stamp, who like scores of people here, praises Colac Pile Pills to the sky.

"Some doctors called it abscess, others ulcers and some just piles, but I was in terrible pain with almost a steady flow of bloody mucus, or sometimes it was clear red blood. Our family physician, and a couple more did their best for me, and I had already used the remedies advertised in the papers, so you can imagine my relief when I found Colac Pile Pills were each day lessening the pain and bloody flow. It got less and less until it quit, and the bowel moved regular and comfortable again. They surely healed me up, and made me well and happy, continued Mr. Stamp, a well-known farmer of Preston, Iowa.

Seven out of ten past forty years of age are apt to suffer with some mild or serious rectal trouble. Colac Pile Pills—a couple with a swallow of water at meal times, do good to countless thousands. They are sold on positive guarantee of results or money back by leading druggists, or send for cash or stamps to Colac Chemical Co., Brentwood, Md., for full size bottle return mail.—(adv.)

General Electric Refrigerator Company, Grant-Harris-Ripley Company, Wesson Oil, Stokely Vegetables and 50 others are all attractive. The entertainment bill was headed by Dan Gregory's Victor Recording orchestra, who kept the crowds lively with their snappy tunes and joyous melodies. Margaret Bonney, billed as the Broadway nightingale, possesses a rich soprano voice and uses it to excellent advantage. Kitty Armstrong, the popularity girl, presented some very attractive dances and was repeatedly encored. The management announces that starting on Monday afternoon there will be cooking school classes. A better baby contest is on the program for next week in the afternoons. The show will be open every afternoon at 2:30 and night at 7:30.

Miss Fern Snider first gave "The Westinghouse Salute," a report on the progress being made in the Westinghouse electric range sales campaign. Following this, Mrs. I. B. Brown spoke on current events.

Miss Ruth Van Epps contributed a bedtime story, which told of the awakening of the Princess of Light by Prince Edison, and Miss Minnie Lee made a talk on safety in the home. The growing use of radio in farmers' homes was discussed by Mrs. Ruby Evans, while Mrs. Lulu Lane pointed out in a brief talk the value of electricity as an ever-ready servant of mankind. Mrs. Alma Langdon spoke on the important results being brought about in health through use of the sunshine lamp, and Mrs. Carol Crawford made a brief talk on baking in the electric range.

Attempt To Bribe Dry Agent Admitted

W. W. "Jeff" Rigdon, proprietor of a sandwich shop on Marietta road, pleaded guilty in United States court here Thursday to charges of attempting to bribe H. P. Wright, deputy prohibition administrator, and possessing whisky.

He was sentenced to serve a year and a day in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $50 on the first charge and was fined $10 for possession. The $50 which he is alleged to have given Mr. Wright for "protection" was returned to him and was used to pay the $50 fine.

He was granted a 30-day respite under $750 bond to arrange his affairs before starting to serve his sentence. In sentencing Rigdon, Judge Samuel H. Sibley declared that "bribery is a sore spot in prohibition," and added that such practices made the law very difficult to enforce. He stated that the practice was apparently prevalent in many parts of the country, and that it "threatens the very foundation of government institutions. In my opinion an officer

Dizzy From Constipation Until He Took Black-Draught— Says He Feels Like New.

Columbia, S. C.—Telling how he was benefited by taking Theodor's Black-Draught, Mr. Charles Senn, 121 Sumter street, this city, recently said: "My work is confining and at times my hours are irregular. This caused me to suffer with constipation and indigestion, or gas, making me feel a tightness in my chest.

"When constipated, I would have dizzy spells; my head ached and my eyes would water and burn. At times I would have a feeling of nausea by leaning against the wall to keep on with my work.

"My mother is a great believer in Black-Draught, and advised me to try it. I did, and would get relief almost immediately. Now I take it when I feel the need of a laxative.

"There is no need to suffer when there is a reliable medicine like Black-Draught that will cleanse the system and make one feel like new. That is what Black-Draught has done for me."

Purely vegetable, easy to take, without bad after-effects.

BURGES CHILDREN'S STORIES

A LESSON LEARNED.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Some part of wisdom he has earned
Who has a lesson truly to see.
—Old Mother Nature.

A lesson may be very severe and painful, but sometimes it is worth all it costs if it is thoroughly learned. Flip had thoroughly learned his lesson. Never again would he meddle with Prickly Porky the Porcupine. Never again would he be heedless of the warning of Bowser the Hound. Bowser had done his best to keep Flip out of trouble, but Flip would be willful, proud and full of curiosity. And so he had his face driven full of Prickly Porky's sharp little spines.

Even after his wounds had all healed and he was as good as ever, Flip refused for some time to go over to the Green Forest. Bowser would tease him to go over, but Flip would refuse. He would stand and look longingly over toward the Green Forest, but somehow he didn't want to go. You see, he couldn't forget what had happened to him there.

At last one day he did venture to go over with Bowser. Bowser led the way and Flip followed him, which was very unusual for Flip. Bowser went down the Lone Little Path. By and by they drew near the place where Flip had been taught his lesson by Prickly Porky. Flip stopped for a moment. Then he made a wide circle around that place. Yes, sir, he went around in a big circle. Bowser said nothing, but he grinned. Presently Flip joined him once more and they went on their way. Bowser didn't let Flip see him grinning at him. Bowser knew all the time that Prickly Porky the Porcupine was no longer in that particular part of the Green Forest. But he didn't say so.

Flip had learned his lesson. He was eager to find something new. But at last Flip noticed that Flip was coming back from one of those little side trips and he was coming very much as if he were afraid of something. He kept looking back over his shoulder. Had he lost his trail? I suspect it would have been a bit of a long time. However, having only a stub of a tail, it couldn't possibly have been put between his legs. "What's the matter with you?" inquired Bowser.

"Nothing," replied Flip. Bowser turned aside and headed in the direction from which Flip had just come. Flip hung back. It was very clear that Flip didn't want to go over there. He pretended to be busy in another direction. "Now I wonder what Flip found over here," thought Bowser to himself, and began to look over and nose at the only way he can. He had gone only a little way when he discovered a few of Prickly Porky's little spines—the spines, you know, scattered on the ground. It was clear that Prickly Porky had been along that way and had shaken some of them loose. He shook them out once in a while, said he to himself. "He discovered those little spines and that was enough for him. Well, I don't know as I blame him much. Any boy who has once been slapped by Prickly Porky's

Adventures of Seckatary Hawkins

UNCLE RAFAEL HAD LEFT US! LEFT US IN THIS UNDERGROUND CELL THAT WAS MADE BY PIRATES, CENTURIES AGO? I TRIED TO FOLLOW HIM. BUT HE SHOOK ME BACK, JUST AS THE BLOCK OF STONE SLID DOWN, CLOSING THE HOLE IN THE WALL.

LINK AND I WERE ALONE! PRISONERS! I WAS TOO STUNNED TO TALK FOR A WHILE. I REALIZED OUR DANGER. RAFAEL WAS A CUNNING OLD DEVIL! HE HAD GOT US IN THIS UNDERGROUND TORTURE CHAMBER—WHAT WOULD HE DO NEXT?

LINK, I SAID, SOFTLY, "WE'VE GOT TO DO SOMETHING, AND DO IT FAST." I TOLD HIM QUICKLY HOW WE HAD FOLLOWED THE DOG INTO THESE CAVERNS, HOW RAFAEL'S RUFFIAN HAD LEAPED UPON US MAKING DO AND THE OTHER MEN PRISONERS.

LINK LISTENED QUIETLY. "THERE IS ONE HOPE, HAWKINS," HE SAID. "THERE IS A GIRL HERE—SHE WROTE THAT NOTE FOR ME—SHE COMES TO FILL THE OIL LAMP AND BRING ME FOOD?" MY HEART LEAPED WITH HOPE. "WHEN WILL SHE COME?" I ASKED.

RCA Demonstrates Photophone Here

Representatives of the R. C. A. Photophone, Inc., a subsidiary of the Radio Corporation of America, gave demonstrations of their new portable motion picture outfit at the Piedmont hotel Wednesday and Thursday.

The machine is considered simple in mechanism and operation, and when packed occupies five small trunks constructed so as to fit in the rear compartment of an automobile. Engineers are said to have devoted years of labor to the development of the apparatus.

Although intended principally for educational and business uses, the machine has been placed in many homes in the north, it is said, and is becoming popular for private use.

Several short films were shown during the demonstrations, reproduction being considered perfect. The films for it are procured from RCA.

Plan Wider Street At New City Hall

Mitchell street, in front of the new city hall, will be widened as soon as construction of sidewalks around the structure have been completed. It was announced Thursday by the construction department. The concrete side-walk on Mitchell street between Washington street and Central avenue, is being set 10 feet farther from the roadway than the position occupied by the old sidewalk. This space will be used in widening Mitchell, which officials state has been overcrowded by traffic since opening of the new city hall.

Atlanta Climate Is Given Praise By Meteorologist

Atlanta is blessed with a very moderate and healthful climate due to its location on a mountain range more than 1,000 feet above sea level, A. H. Scott, assistant meteorologist at the local bureau, told the City Club Thursday at its meeting at the Piedmont hotel.

Mr. Scott has been connected with the United States weather bureau for approximately 25 years and came to Atlanta in January, 1934. In his talk he pointed out that as a general rule the city does not suffer extreme temperatures and that the winds from the northwest bring dry instead of damp air.

"We have just enough cold weather in the winter," he stated, "and if it does get a little hot occasionally in the summer, we can be thankful for cool nights."

Mosquitoes which make conditions miserable in many localities are reduced to a minimum here, he stated, due to the fact that frequent rains keep the mountain streams in motion and do not allow the formation of stagnant pools which serve as breeding places for the pests.

Long Beach Hotel Destroyed by Fire

LONG BEACH, N. Y., March 27. (AP)—Fire early today destroyed the $100,000 Hotel Lafayette, 1000 Broadway, here. The hotel was to have been opened for the summer within a few days and it was unoccupied.

More than 200 firemen were on hand, but they were unable to prevent the spread of the flames.

The origin of the fire was not determined. When the fire was discovered it had spread to all four floors of the frame and concrete structure of 200 rooms.

WE GIVE OUR LITTLE BOY LIN-O-NINE IF HE COUGHS

Likes to Take It and Away Goes All Signs of His Cold

MOTHERS FIND IT IS BEST FOR THE KIDDIES

"We've given Lin-O-Nine to our little boy ever since he was two years old whenever he threatened to have a cough or cold and it works like magic," declares Arthur H. Foster, well-known Shoe Merchant, 145 Main Street, Danbury, Conn.

"The boy seems to like its taste. It looks just like thick cream and tastes like candy," he says, and we give it to him freely because doctors say there is nothing better," continued Mr. Foster.

Thousands of careful mothers keep a bottle of this splendid creamy emulsion of Eucalyptus, Cassia, Flaxseed, Betula, Irish Moss and Glycerine always in the home for the whole family's coughs and colds. It is so nicely flavored with wintergreen and works so quickly even in aggravated cases that no one should be without it. Show your doctor formula on bottle and he'll always recommend it. Made by the famous 45-year-old Kerr Chemical Co., Breuninger, Md. They will send a bottle return mail, 50c or $1 size, if your druggist won't obtain it of his jobber for you. Accept no substitutes.—(adv.)

GRAY HAired MEN FOOLISH TO BE GRAY AND LOOK OLD

New Tonic Stops Hair Falling Out and Banishes Every Gray Hair in Your Head

USE AT HOME LITTLE WHILE; NO TROUBLE

"My hair had been falling out for years until it was matted in knots and had turned gray, too, so I bought one thing and then another but nothing helped me until I saw Lea's Hair Tonic advertised. It is wonderful stuff," declared Albert Janusz, who, like many others here, is no longer gray or bothered with dandruff or falling hair.

"I didn't have faith in Lea's but gave it a trial anyhow and am glad I did for it works like magic. Results were astonishing and so perfect I recommend Lea's Hair Tonic to everybody and his kind. Gray-haired men are foolish not to use it. It makes a man look years younger and better dressed," continued Mr. Janusz, 2910 Smith J Street, Tacoma, Wash.

Thousands of men message to Lea's or two of Lea's into their scalp with finger tips and are delighted beyond words at the youthful, improved appearance it brings to the hair. It doesn't strain or give a dyed appearance. It is a clear, clean smelling liquid even the children of America use with delight. One can defy their barber to detect the use of Lea's and gradually day by day the hair goes back to its youthful color. Then an occasional massage keeps the hair and scalp in vigorous healthy condition entirely free of gray or dandruff. If the reader desires to try Lea's Hair Tonic, check or stamps to Lea Hair Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md., a regular size bottle will be mailed to you.—(adv.)

RAIN AND COOLER WEATHER IS SEEN HEADED FOR CITY

Chances for rain in Atlanta today are considered excellent by C. V. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, who states that a new disturbance in Texas will bring showers to this part of the country and that the showers will be followed by still another mild temperature drop.

The mercury in the official thermometer here ranged from a minimum of 36 up to an even 50, while today's extremes are scheduled to be from 40 to 50. Colder weather will follow tonight and Saturday morning, the bureau chief stated.

"There is just no chance of summer weather reaching Atlanta as long as low temperatures prevail in the western part of the country," he pointed out, "and at the present time it is cold not only in the west but in the north and east."

A mass of clouds which hovered over most of the state Thursday was credited with moderating the threatened heavy frost. Low temperatures were reported from points as far south as Savannah but no great damage resulted, it is said.

A. D. Jones, director of the state marketing bureau, reported Thursday that no material damage had resulted in the Georgia peach belt from low temperatures Wednesday night. Frost, in varying degrees, was general throughout south Georgia, he said.

FIFTEENTH INSTALLMENT.

"Don't worry, Mr. Burke," he said. "You are not to blame. One day we shall know how it was done. If Head Centre has scored a point, I think he's taken a big chance: I think I have scored a point, too."

"What do you mean, Roscoe?" Father Pat asked.

"I think I know who Mr. Gaston Pascal really is."

"Who?" Stoford demanded eagerly.

"Unless I am greatly mistaken," Roscoe replied, "M. Pascal is Head Centre."

"I think what awakened me," said June Sutton, "was a sound that seemed to be very near."

"What did you do?" Drake Roscoe asked.

"I lay still for a while," the girl replied. "You see, I was in a dreadful state of nerves because of the attempt on Daddy only a few days before—"

"This happened last Tuesday night?"

"Yes."

"Please go on."

"Then it occurred to me that there was something under the pillow! Just as I got this idea, and stifled a scream—I wanted to scream badly—I felt a tickling sensation on my neck. I sat up. And something—I can't even guess what—dropped onto the sheets."

"Then you did scream?"

"No, I didn't. I couldn't! I switched on the lamp and looked around. There was nothing to be seen. At that moment I heard a faint sound, from under the pillow, again! I shot out of bed like a hare!"

"What was the time?" Roscoe asked quietly.

"I noticed particularly. It was 1 o'clock."

"Your room faces the tennis lawn?"

"Yes."

"Were the dogs quiet?"

"Absolutely."

"Please go on."

"For a while I hadn't the courage to move the pillow. Then, at last, I did move it. . . . and now I came to the extraordinary thing, Commander Roscoe. I hope you'll understand why I told nobody—but why I have told you tonight. There was a wooden reel, fixed with a piece of wire, under my pillow!"

Drake Roscoe stared blankly; then: "Cotton or silk on it?" he jerked.

"Nothing!"

"Why didn't you report this to your father?"

"I will explain," said June Sutton. "I suddenly got an idea that there was someone outside my door. I ran and opened it. I could see no one. I turned up the lights and ran to Mrs. Dean's room. I awakened her. We went back together."

"What did you tell her?"

"I just said I thought somebody was in my room."

"How long were you away?"

"Two or three minutes at most."

"What then?"

"We came back. . . . and I was glad I had said so little. The reel was gone!"

Drake Roscoe did not speak for a moment.

"There's something else," the girl went on hesitantly, "although I don't really know if it's got anything to do with the matter."

"Better tell me all the same."

"Well, I have met a queer-looking man around the neighborhood more than once. On Wednesday I'm almost sure I saw him watching Molly over the hedge."

"Eh?" snapped Roscoe. "Describe him."

June laughed uneasily.

"I didn't say a word to Molly," she explained, "and he never appears when she is with me. But—he's queerly like Napoleon!"

"Roscoe suppressed some violent spitting."

"When did you last notice this man?" he asked quietly.

"Yesterday afternoon. We passed him in the car on our way to golf."

"Near here?"

"On the corner."

"Did Miss O'Hilly see him?"

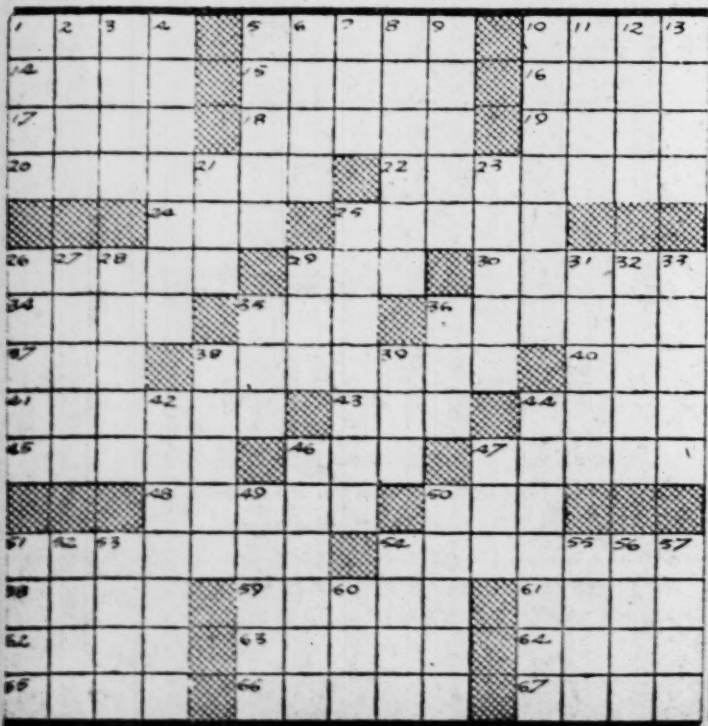

"No," June hesitated, and then: "Don't tell Daddy if you can avoid it," she pleaded. "He's got worry enough. But I had made up my mind to tell you."

Dusk was creeping over the home of Page Sutton.

Enormous Buying Orders Executed in Early Hour

confidently forecast, the New York Federal Reserve bank made no further reduction in its discount rate. Its weekly statements, however, showed a rapid increase in the volume of credit through heavy open market purchases of bankers' acceptances.

Conspicuous in the day's operations was the sale of a regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 by Anaconda. There had been some concern over the possibility of a smaller dividend, but the company's recent slow movement of the regular rate was interpreted as indicating confidence in the copper outlook, and caused a substantial rally in the copper shares, Anaconda rising about 1/2 point to 13 1/2.

Several High Peaks. Among shares selling up to new high ground for the year were such issues as American Telephone and Telegraph, United States Steel, General Motors, DuPont, Ford Motor, and the Public Service of New Jersey, and the Western Union, with extreme gains of 1/2 point or more. The market was characterized by a sharp reduction in the copper shares, Anaconda falling about 1/2 point to 13 1/2.

Utilities suffered most heavily in the selling. The sharp advance late yesterday appeared to have been a reaction to the report that the American & Foreign Power, Columbia Gas and Consolidated Gas were among issues losing 2 to 4 points. The market was characterized by a sharp reduction in the copper shares, Anaconda falling about 1/2 point to 13 1/2.

Money Renewed Firm. The renewed firmness of money aided the bear cause. Banks called more than $80,000,000 in loans, evidently in preparation for the mid-weekly settlement at the federal reserve and to build up their balances against the sharp decline in the market. The market was characterized by a sharp reduction in the copper shares, Anaconda falling about 1/2 point to 13 1/2.

Local Bank Clearings. Thursday's local bank clearings were $7,218,244.36, compared with $7,924,569.45 the day before. The market was characterized by a sharp reduction in the copper shares, Anaconda falling about 1/2 point to 13 1/2.

DAY IN FINANCE

NEW YORK, March 27.—Call money renewed at 3 1/2 per cent and then on heavy calling of loans by the banks advanced to 4. However, Wall Street was not concerned over that or over either the redoubtable meeting of the federal reserve directors scheduled for late today or what would be shown in the brokers' loan statement to be published after the close of the day, as the money market was of opinion among traders in the stock market that there is nothing to worry about in connection with the stock yielding a steady return and those having attractive future possibilities. Funds for the purchase of stocks have been raised by the sale of government bonds. The federal reserve commission will shortly start an investigation to determine whether Pennard and other railroad holding companies have stockholdings that might interfere with the commission's merger plans.

Baker in Picture.—Much is being said and written in a matter of several days about the death of George F. Baker, chairman of the First National Bank and dean of American bankers who is spending his last days in London. Boiled down, what the average individual wants to know about Mr. Baker is how much money he has and how much he is worth.

Aside from the fact that Mr. Baker undoubtedly is one of the richest men in the country, nothing can be said about his net worth. It is a safe guess that Mr. Baker himself does not know what he is worth as the figure changes from hour to hour according to the stock market. The net worth of such a man as Mr. Baker is a matter of guesswork. It is also a safe guess that Mr. Baker does not waste as much time as other trying to guess how much he is worth.

One really important thing about Mr. Baker's fortune from the viewpoint of the average individual is its make-up. The bulk of it has been built up by-laws or state requirements, corporations allow inspection of their stockholders books. Through these means Mr. Baker has been able to accumulate a fortune. The lesson to be learned from these holdings is that they are all good, the very best. The executive head of the First National Bank has no "cats and dogs" to use a Wall Street phrase. The other important item from the viewpoint of the average individual is how Mr. Baker happens to have only good stocks, the very best.

Bought Outright.—It is a safe guess that Mr. Baker himself could not give an answer to this question which would satisfy the average individual. It is a matter of record that many, or most of the stocks Mr. Baker has bought outright for a very small part of their real value. Mr. Baker probably does not know any more

1,200 Missouri Prisoners Riot Twice in 24 Hours

National Guard Quickly Quells Uprising and Warden Announces No More "Soft" Treatment.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 22.—(AP)—An uprising of more than 1,200 convicts in the Missouri penitentiary today, the second within 24 hours, was speedily put down with the use of tear bombs and clubs to subdue about 400 of the most rebellious prisoners. Drastic disciplinary measures were put into effect tonight to prevent further disorders.

Twenty convicts were injured, none seriously, in the melee which took place at noon in the main prison dining room after 700 convicts had refused to leave the hall. Prison guards and state militiamen disarmed about 400 of them after the other 250 had fled outside under threat of an attack.

Earlier in the day a strike against work by more than 500 convicts had forced suspension of operations at prison factories and about 80 per cent of the penitentiary's population had been locked in cells.

No shots were fired during the riot, but machine guns were trained on the rioters and the disorder. The convicts had no weapons.

Warden Leslie Rudolph said tonight the situation was well in hand, but he was uncertain as to whether the backbone of the mutiny, in evidence for some time, had been broken. He said no effort probably would be made to operate factories tomorrow.

In a ringing address late today in the main prison courtyard to 600 to 800 convicts who did not take part in today's disorders, Warden Rudolph laid down a new and drastic set of rules, designed, he said, "to make this a real prison instead of a kindergarten."

"We are through with methods of leniency," the warden shouted as he paced up and down in front of the silent group within earshot of cell doors containing the rebellious convicts. "We are going to clamp down and run this penitentiary on a hard-boiled basis. We are going to grant no more leniency."

Today's clash climaxed a rebellion which started immediately after breakfast when 50 convicts refused to go to work. The rebellion spread rapidly to five other factories where convicts, with no threat of violence, simply quit work.

Postal Inspector Accused Of Assisting Rose Forces

Revenue Collector Denies Agent Is Here for Political Purposes—Washington Probe Predicted.

Complaints from Georgia against the presence here of a postoffice inspector who is reported to be under instructions from Postmaster-General Walter A. Brown for the purpose of aiding the Josiah T. Rose organization in capturing the state convention in April were termed "ridiculous" Thursday night by Rose, who is internal revenue collector for Georgia.

Durelle Cheney, postoffice inspector, former private secretary to former Postmaster-General Harry S. New, is in Atlanta on strictly official business, and his visit has no political significance, according to Rose. Reports from Washington were that the complaints voiced from this state may be the subject of an inquiry by the Brookhart patronage investigating committee.

Cheney is registered at the Ansley hotel. Rose said that he had talked to Cheney, and that the latter is in the state merely to check up on prospective postmasters in order that the postmaster general may know the capabilities and qualifications of the men who are to be appointed to the office. "The story that Cheney is here in connection with political activities is an injustice to him," Rose said. Cheney could not be reached Thursday night for a statement.

Reports from Washington were that a tentative agreement has been reached by a conference between Cheney, leaders and Postmaster-General Brown, the agreement being to elect Rose chairman of the state central committee of the United States republicans, and to reappoint Louis Crawford as United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia, and names G. F. E. H. Swain, United States marshal for the southern district.

BROOKHART BODY MEN INVESTIGATE

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(Special)—Complaints from Georgia against the reported presence in Atlanta of an official inspector of the United States postoffice, who is reported to be under instructions from Postmaster-General Walter A. Brown for the purpose of aiding the Josiah T. Rose organization in capturing the state convention, may be the subject of an inquiry by the Brookhart patronage investigating committee, it was developed here today.

The postoffice department official, at whom the complaints are being directed, is Durelle Cheney, a former private secretary to former Postmaster-General Harry S. New, who is said to be making his headquarters at the Ansley hotel in Atlanta. Department officials described Mr. Cheney's position today as one of liaison officer whose duties are supposed to carry him over the country in investigation of persons recommended for appointments as postmasters. It was admitted that he has been in Georgia and some of the other southern states recently on an inspection tour, but official confirmation was lacking as to his alleged political activities.

According to reports being sent to Washington by opponents of the recognized republican organization of the state, headed by Collector of Internal Revenue Josiah T. Rose, Mr. Cheney for some days has been engaged openly in political activities throughout the state, all with a view of the state convention set for April 19.

The same complaints, which have reached the ears of the senate patronage committee, which Senator Smith W. Brookhart, republican of Iowa, is chairman, charge that Cheney

Woman Kills Doctor And Commits Suicide

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 27.—(AP)—Dr. M. Reishel Goho was killed in his shoe store on North Third street today, allegedly by his secretary, Mrs. Margaret Bitter, of Shiremanstown, when then shot herself through the heart.

Dr. Goho, shot twice through the body, rushed out to a near-by physician's office and was taken to a hospital, where he died. The woman was found dead in a chair in the store.

Dr. Goho was an orthopedic physician and he also operated a shoe store in which the tragedy occurred.

After speaking in Atlanta twice Wednesday night, Professor R. C. Gooch, of Columbia University, flew to Augusta Thursday to speak before the Augusta Advertising Club. He returned later in the day. His pilot for the trip was Captain Gill, Davis Airlines operations manager.

John Chickister and Hugh Denman, president and vice president, respectively, of the Birmingham Real Estate Board, flew to Atlanta Wednesday to address the Atlanta Real Estate Board. They left Birmingham at 8 o'clock in the morning and were at Candler field at 1:15 a. m.

Their flight shows the possibility of air commuting between here and office by men of big business over distances of 150 or more miles. Mr. Chickister asserted the belief that the advent of commercial airlines will prove of much convenience to southern business. The two men came to Atlanta via the newly established Birmingham-Birmingham line operated by the Davis Airlines.
